

Does your organization have a high ratio of failed, delayed or over-budget projects? Would better project management practices help your organization meet its project commitments? Many organizations are hindered by project delays, inefficient use of resources, cost overruns and lack of planning. However, organizations that apply effective project management can gain a critical, competitive advantage.

The RCM Enterprise Project Management group assists organizations in developing best practice processes to enable them to deliver quality projects consistently, while providing visibility into critical project data. We specialize in working with organizations to increase:

- On-Time Projects
- On-Budget Projects
- Customer Satisfaction
- Effective Use of Resources
- Forecasting/Estimation Accuracy
- Proactive Thinking
- Scope Creep Management
- Overall Portfolio Visibility

Consulting Services

Process & Methodology Development

Every experienced Project Manager knows the key to delivering projects consistently on-time and on-budget requires a practical and repeatable methodology. RCM has assisted hundreds of organizations in developing and refining project management methodologies using industry best practices and standards.

Project Management Office Development

RCM has designed and implemented project offices for some of the world's largest corporations. RCM can help your organization build a world class PMO through the development of a strategic PMO roadmap. Organizations that design and implement their PMO's with RCM see measurable improvements in project delivery, quality and strategic alignment with their organizational objectives.

Project Recovery and Re-Planning

RCM has years of experience auditing projects, documenting findings, and guiding project teams through the process of analyzing, prioritizing, and developing practical recovery plans.

Project Management Application Implementation

Do you have a high-visibility project that's been delayed or isn't meeting critical milestones? RCM can help you select the technology that most closely aligns with your project management processes to allow you to automate with the least amount of customization or process re-engineering.

"On Demand" Project Managers

Do you have more project work than you can handle? RCM has an extensive network of highly skilled, PMI-certified project managers and business analysts that can quickly and affordably take the reins of your project to ensure success. RCM pre-qualifies and guarantees the quality of our project managers. Our project managers have extensive experience in Product Development, IT/IS infrastructure, biotechnology, telecommunication and financial service projects.