RCM TECHNOLOGIES' SPECIALTY HEALTH CARE DIVISION ANNOUNCES AWARD OF CONTRACT BY THE CHICAGO BOARD OF EDUCATION

Pennsauken, NJ – June 26, 2015 -- RCM Technologies, Inc. (NasdaqGM: RCMT), a premier provider of business and technology solutions designed to enhance and maximize the operational performance of its customers through the adaptation and deployment of advanced engineering, information technology and specialty health care services, today announced that its Specialty Health Care Division has been awarded a new contract by the Chicago Board of Education to improve the quality of nursing across Chicago Public Schools (CPS) and increase nurse support. CPS serves 396,000 students in 664 schools. It is the nation's third-largest school district.

Under a four-year, $30 million contract, RCM will manage hiring, staffing and training of nurses for CPS as its exclusive vendor for nursing services. CPS has the option to renew the contract for an additional two years after the initial term.

“RCM will partner with the Chicago Public Schools and the outstanding nurses who are CPS staff employees to provide additional highly qualified school nurses,” said Andrew Hay, Director of School Nursing Operations for RCM Health Care Services.

RCM Health Care Services was selected from a pool of 11 applicants after an extremely competitive RFP process based upon its ability to address three key issues: efficient scheduling of nurses, professional development opportunities, and staffing vacancies. RCM will use its best practices gained from their other school nursing contracts to offer CPS a more cost-effective and demand-driven model for hiring nurses. With schools experiencing nursing shortages, RCM will also work with CPS to recruit highly qualified nurses so the district can hire more permanent school nurses.

Marc Chafetz, Vice President of RCM's Specialty Health Care Division, said, “With additional school nurses available to supplement the CPS School Health Staff, CPS can help ensure that Chicago students who need a nurse get the care they deserve. RCM's commitment to service and excellence will be underscored by efforts to make sure parents and students know about the health services that are available to them through community outreach, education and communication.”

RCM has demonstrated extensive experience providing nursing services to students with special needs, and believes that there is a link between quality nursing services and academic achievement. For more than 25 years, RCM has specialized in school services, and works with school districts in Hawaii, New York City and Philadelphia and other municipalities across the United States. By working with school staff and families, RCM has consistently delivered positive student outcomes through individualized nursing care.

RCM will provide approximately 170 nurses to CPS. RCM's nurses will supplement the over 200 nurses currently employed by the district.

Michael Saks, Senior Vice President of RCM, said, “By having RCM manage the credentialing and professional development for both CPS and RCM nurses, we can ensure that the care provided meets the highest standards and that caregivers are up to date on required credentials and training. CPS’ highly trained nurses will be able to focus on providing care to the children of the Chicago Public Schools rather than on clerical responsibilities. RCM looks forward to working closely with nurses at CPS to gain suggestions for training programs and insight on clinical professional development areas that would be beneficial to the nurses and students.”
