RCM EXPANDS SERVICES WITH ADDITION OF NEW YORK ENGINEERING FIRM

Pennsauken, NJ – April 27, 2017 -- RCM Technologies, Inc. (NasdaqGM: RCMT), a premier provider of business and technology solutions designed to enhance and maximize the operational performance of its customers through the adaptation and deployment of advanced engineering, information technology and specialty health care services, today announced the acquisition of certain assets of RAF Services, Inc. (“RAF”), a New York based Engineering Services Company. RAF personnel will join RCM’s engineering team. RAF has been in business since 1991 as a multi-disciplined engineering and consulting and design company headquartered on Long Island. The firm has been providing Engineering, Design, Permitting, Inspection and Construction Management services to the utility, industrial, commercial, and property management industries.

RCM President, Rocco Campanelli said, “RAF specializes in turnkey above ground tank inspection, repair and cleaning services, as well as concrete, steel, masonry, and roofing routine maintenance inspection and design. Their services range from development of individual work packages to the generation of complete bid and construction packages for new facilities and major facility upgrades.”

“RAF will add a new dimension to RCM’s existing significant engineering capability and we are excited to welcome them into the RCM family. Their proven track record of providing engineering, design and inspection services will be of value to many of our existing customers and supplement the services we currently provide,” said Campanelli.

RAF’s President, Bob Friess added, “I’ve worked with RCM Technologies since I formed the company and both of our cultures are very much aligned, we strive to deliver a quality product safely, on time, on budget and value client satisfaction above all else.”
